

EMS POLICY

of TECNOCAP s.r.o.

Tecnocap, s.r.o., member of the Tecnocap Group, manufactures metal lids for glass jars.

The company understands its role in environmental impact and considers environmental protection a necessary precondition for its further sustainable development. Therefore the company declares that it is committed to perform all its activities aimed at meeting needs of its customers and its own needs in a way that is environment friendly and with the objective not only to minimize negative impact of its activities on all elements of environment, but also to prevent such impacts by continuous improvement of environmental care standards. For the purpose of environmental care the company has implemented an effective management system – the environmental management system by adopting the standard ISO 14 001.

The company commits to the following:

- Our activities and services are performed in compliance with legal and other requirements applicable in the area of environmental protection, context of organization is taken into account, and compliance with these requirements is reviewed on regular basis.
- We identify and minimize any potential environmental risks, this activity results in development of the continuous process of our company's environmental profile improvement with the aim to prevent environmental pollution.
- We set targets, evaluate their achievement on regular basis and adopt corrective actions and preventive measures, which results in continuous improvement of our own environmental management system.
- We take responsible approach to comments of interested parties (i.e. state administration bodies, local government, employees, customers, external auditors, consultants and public etc.) regarding environmental impact of our activities.
- We strive for continuous reduction of negative environmental impact, by reducing energy (water, electricity, gas) and material demands of our production, limitation of waste generation and by thorough waste sorting and finally, by reducing CO2 emissions.
- We keep developing awareness of our employees on environmental impact of their activities and their direct responsibility for the condition of environment and so we guide them in environmental discipline.
- We strive for making our business partners involved in the environmental protection process and insist on compliance with all applicable legislative requirements applicable to environmental protection.
- We provide important information in the area of environmental protection management in the company to state administration bodies, local governments and our customers.
- The environmental policy is available to all interested parties.

Bc. Marcela Kudlová
EMS Manager

Dott. Alfonso D'Agostino
CEO

Signed in Střížovice on 3.6.2021
Version 5